House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy adds Anna Paulina Luna to NRCC Young Guns Program

SAINT PETERSBURG, FL – Today, the National Republican Congressional Committee (NRCC) announced new additions to the Young Guns program, including Anna Paulina Luna as an "on-the-radar" candidate.

In their release, Republican House Leader Kevin McCarthy said, "these candidates are instrumental in helping Republicans reclaim the House majority. With their continued hard work and dedication, Republicans will be one step closer to sending the socialist Democrats packing in November."

"I am grateful for the help the NRCC provides, and I look forward to working with them to take back the House in November," said Anna Paulina Luna. "Our campaign is quickly building momentum. Being added to the Young Gun program makes that clear."

The 2020 Young Guns program mentors and supports candidates in races across the country and works to provide them with the necessary tools to run successful, winning campaigns against their Democratic opponents.

About Anna Paulina Luna

Anna Paulina Luna is a United States Air Force (USAF) veteran running for the Republican nomination to challenge incumbent Democrat Charlie Crist in 2020. Luna is a small-business owner and the Chairwoman of Hispanic Initiative at PragerU, a national conservative non-profit organization. Previously, she served as a national spokesperson for Turning Point USA. She has become one of the most prominent Hispanic-American conservative media personalities in the country and has been widely featured in national conservative media.

Luna graduated from the University of West Florida with a degree in Biology. She lives in St. Petersburg with her husband, Andy. Andy is a fellow USAF veteran and works at MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa. He has been awarded a Bronze Star and Purple Heart. Anna's experience in the aftermath of Andy getting shot in Afghanistan led her to get involved with several veteran-led or veteran-focused non-profit and community service organizations. They remain active with these organizations today.
